TAKING THE GOOD NEWS TO THE NATIONS

SUNDAY 30 AUGUST, 2026

RAISING KINGDOM LEADERS

REACHING NATIONS

CHANGING LIVES

Editorial Note

Welcome to this edition of the Sunday Sermon Digest, a prayerfully curated treasury of messages proclaimed across Pentecostal, evangelical and historic Christian traditions in Nigeria on Sunday, 30 August 2026. Beyond a record of pulpit ministry, this Digest gathers biblical truth, spiritual insight and sacred exhortation to deepen communion with God, nurture Christian maturity, fortify discipleship and awaken hunger for His living Word.

Though delivered from diverse pulpits, these sermons converge upon the Church's timeless calling: to know Christ intimately, abide in His Word and reveal His character in a changing world. Their themes-restoration, transformation, spiritual victory, faith, praise, compassion, authentic love, creative purpose, sacrificial discipleship and obedient service-testify to the Gospel's transforming power and summon believers beyond hearing into faithful, Christ-centred living.

A faithful sermon is never mere inspiration; it is divine truth calling the soul to repentance, faith and obedience. As you prayerfully journey through these pages, may the Holy Spirit unveil Christ in Scripture, rekindle your faith, renew your mind and empower wholehearted obedience. May these messages become incorruptible seeds, bearing enduring fruit in homes, churches, workplaces and communities, and raising disciples whose lives proclaim the holiness, grace, power, love and victory of Jesus Christ.

May we not be hearers only, but faithful doers of the Word.

Jesus is Lord.

Pastor Folorunso S. Aluko

LIVING FAITH CHURCH WORLDWIDE (WINNERS' CHAPEL INTERNATIONAL)
Sunday, 30 August 2026 | Faith Tabernacle, Canaanland, Ota, Ogun State, Nigeria

COVENANT DAY OF RESTORATION
Presiding Bishop: Bishop David Olaniyi Oyedepo

Restoration is God's covenant answer to loss, delay and stagnation. Joel 2:25-26 assures believers that no season surrendered to God is beyond redemption: He restores the soul, lost years, joy, peace, purpose, opportunity and fruitfulness. Christ remains the centre; the One who healed and delivered in Matthew 8:16-17 is unchanged and still works today. Restoration is received by faith grounded in Scripture and expressed through prayer, obedience, thanksgiving and service. Believers must not permit regret to dictate tomorrow, but return to God, reject bitterness and trust His wisdom. As August ends, the Church gives thanks for preservation and enters September expecting renewed strength and honour.

Key Points

- God restores the whole person, not possessions alone.
- Faith rests on covenant promises, not contrary circumstances.
- Lost years can yield fresh opportunities and supernatural progress.
- The Word, prayer, obedience, fellowship and thanksgiving position believers for restoration.
- In Christ, healing, deliverance and restoration remain present realities.

FOURTH INTERACTIVE SESSION
SUMMARY OF LESSONS 40–44
General Overseer: Pastor Enoch Adejare Adeboye

The Fourth Interactive Session reviewed Lessons 40-44, calling believers to translate biblical knowledge into faithful living. Mordecai models courage, conviction and service to God's people; steadfastness under pressure can fulfil divine purpose and attract honour. John the Beloved shows that intimacy with Christ must mature into love, loyalty and obedience. God's timing demands patient faith: delay is not abandonment, so Christians must keep praying and trust His wisdom. Christian investment presents stewardship as worship; resources and abilities belong to God and must be managed wisely for Kingdom advancement and human blessing. 'Occupy Till I Come' summons every believer to productive, vigilant service as Christ's return approaches.

Key Points

- Faithfulness must survive pressure and wait for God's appointed time.
- Love for Christ must become practical love for others.
- Wise stewardship joins discipline, generosity and eternal purpose.
- Every gift should serve the Gospel and strengthen God's Kingdom.
- Believers must remain holy, fruitful and prepared for Christ's return.

THE DIVINELY PLANNED TRANSFORMATION BY GRACE FOR GLORY
General Superintendent: Pastor William Folorunsho Kumuyi

God's purpose in salvation is not merely to rescue sinners from judgment, but to remake them into Christlike vessels prepared for glory. From 2 Corinthians 5:17 and Titus 2:11-12, the message presents grace as God's saving favour and enabling schoolmaster: it forgives the past, breaks sin's dominion and trains believers to live soberly, righteously and godly. Conversion therefore produces visible change in character, conduct and priorities; spiritual stagnation contradicts the new creation.

Key Points

- Transformation begins at conversion and continues through the renewing of the mind by Scripture.
- Believers must surrender every habit, ambition and attitude to God, obeying even when His correction is costly.
- Prayer, fellowship and the Holy Spirit sustain sanctification, humility, forgiveness, integrity and fruitful service.
- No Christian may boast in progress; every victory is grace received and faithfully obeyed.
- As believers keep their eyes on Christ, their transformed lives become credible testimonies, useful to the Kingdom and radiant with God's glory.

SPIRITUAL VICTORY, DELIVERANCE AND WALKING IN GOD'S POWER
General Overseer: Dr Daniel Kolawole Olukoya

The believer's victory rests not in human strength, but in the Lord - light, salvation, refuge and defender. From Psalm 27, Psalm 91, Luke 10:19 and Ephesians 6:10-18, the message rejects fear and summons Christians to vigilance. Battles are spiritual; therefore, the weapons must be spiritual - truth, righteousness, faith, salvation, Scripture and persevering prayer. Through Christ, believers possess authority over the enemy, exercised in submission to God, dependence on the Holy Spirit and confidence in His Word.

Key Points

- Maintain a disciplined altar of prayer and daily Bible study; spiritual carelessness creates vulnerability.
- Put on the whole armour of God, resist the devil and stand upon Christ's finished victory.
- Walk in holiness, obedience, forgiveness and fellowship, refusing fear, temptation and discouragement.
- Make God your dwelling; no weapon can overturn His purpose for those who abide in Him.
- Close the month with thanksgiving for preservation and deliverance, entering September alert and ready to possess every God-ordained victory.

CHEER UP—VICTORY IS CERTAIN

President, LoveWorld Incorporated:
Reverend (Dr) Chris Oyakhilome

At August's close, the Month of Recovery, believers were charged to cheer up because Christ's victory - not circumstances - is the foundation of confidence. From John 16:33 and Romans 4:18, faith looks beyond contradictions, embraces God's Word and refuses discouragement. Recovery demands more than wishing: Christians must pray, rejoice, obey the Word, depend on the Holy Spirit and act in faith, assured that God causes them to triumph in Christ. The service also celebrated thirty years of Pastor Chris's television ministry, through which the Gospel has crossed borders and transformed lives.

Key Points

- Victory is secured through Jesus Christ; believers confront adversity from a position of triumph.
- Faith follows Abraham: hope against hope, allowing Scripture - not circumstances - to govern expectation.
- Joy is spiritual strength; thanksgiving and rejoicing keep the heart resistant to fear.
- Recovery embraces renewed strength, purpose, opportunity and fruitfulness through persistence in the Word.
- Media is a consecrated instrument for taking God's divine presence to the nations.

THE ENEMIES OF PRAISE

Senior Pastor: Dr Pastor Paul Enenche

Isaiah 43:21 declares that God formed His people for praise; praise is not an occasional response to favourable events but a covenant lifestyle. Dr Pastor Paul Enenche identified misplaced focus as a chief enemy: when the heart magnifies what is absent, delay, comparison, anxiety, offence or disappointment can eclipse mercies received. Mature faith does not deny pain; it remembers God's faithfulness and rejoices despite contradictions, as Habakkuk exemplifies. At August's Testimonies and Thanksgiving Service, concluding the Five Weeks of Revival Fire with 'The Overflow,' believers were urged to turn remembrance into thanksgiving and let God's inward work overflow in character, testimony and influence.

Key Points

- Count God's benefits deliberately; remembered mercy fuels enduring praise.
- Refuse unhealthy comparison, discouragement, pride, unforgiveness and fixation on unanswered desires.
- Trust divine timing and pray with thanksgiving while awaiting manifestation.
- Praise strengthens faith, restores joy and keeps attention fixed on God's unchanging goodness.
- Let revival overflow beyond personal experience into visible worship, witness and transformed living.

THE POWER OF COMPASSION

Presiding Pastor: Pastor David Ibiyeomie

Compassion is more than sympathy; it is Christ's love seeing human pain and moving decisively to relieve it. God revealed His compassionate heart supremely in giving Christ for the world, while Jesus continually healed the sick, fed the hungry, restored the rejected and guided the spiritually lost. Therefore, believers must notice the lonely, discouraged and needy, then translate concern into prayer, listening, encouragement, giving, visitation and practical help. Like the Good Samaritan, genuine compassion crosses social boundaries and refuses indifference. It also forgives without excusing wrongdoing, frees the heart from bitterness and creates credible openings for evangelism. When the Church couples practical kindness with the saving Gospel, homes are strengthened, communities become more caring and Christ's character becomes visible.

Key Points

- See people before judging them.
- Turn concern into wise, practical action.
- Unite mercy with Gospel witness.
- Forgive, serve and love consistently.
- Ask God for sensitivity, wisdom and resources.

LET LOVE BE GENUINE
LAWMNA Territorial Chairman: Pastor Moses Oluwole Ogunibe

Christian love must be genuine and practical. Romans 12:9 rejects religious pretence and calls believers to abhor evil while cleaving to what is good. Jesus Christ is the perfect pattern, commanding His disciples to love one another so the world recognises them as His own. Such love moves beyond words into kindness, prayer, listening, encouragement and support. It forgives offences without endorsing sin, refuses to keep a ledger of wrongs and overcomes bitterness through grace. Because people differ in temperament and weakness, genuine love requires patience, humility and disciplined speech. Spiritual gifts and service lose value when love is absent; but Spirit-enabled love builds unity in homes, churches and communities and makes the believer a living testimony of Christ.

Key Points

- Love sincerely, without hypocrisy.
- Forgive and release offences.
- Practise patience, kindness and humility.
- Let truth govern expressions of love.
- Make Christ visible through practical care.

CREATIVE FAITH IV
Preacher: Pastor Bolutife Oluyomi

Creative faith begins when believers allow God's Word to redefine identity, govern speech and inspire action. Words are not harmless sounds: repeated declarations shape expectations and decisions. As God spoke creation into being, believers must align their vocabulary with Scripture, refusing to let pain, failure or human labels name them. Faith sees beyond present evidence, yet it is neither denial nor passivity; it prays, prepares and takes responsible steps toward God's purpose. When self-talk contradicts what God has spoken, destiny is restrained; when belief and confession agree with divine truth, courage rises and possibilities open. Christians should find God's verdict in Scripture for every circumstance, speak it with conviction and act upon it through the Holy Spirit.

Key Points

- Identity in Christ must outrank circumstances and labels.
- Faith-filled words carry conviction into conduct.
- Scripture, prayer and action make faith creative.
- Believe God's truth, declare it and live accordingly.

TAKE UP YOUR CROSS AND FOLLOW CHRIST

Homilist: Reverend Father E. A. Alo

The Gospel confronts disciples with Christ's summons: deny self, take up the cross and follow Him. Peter recoils because he sees by human calculation; Jesus reveals that redemption passes through sacrifice into resurrection. Jeremiah's burning word portrays the cost of fidelity, Psalm 63 the soul's thirst for God, and Romans 12 calls believers to become living sacrifices, renewed in mind and discerning God's will. The cross is not misery sought for itself, but faithfulness amid duty, temptation, rejection and love. To follow Christ is to surrender selfish ambition, forgive, serve, resist sin and trust God when His design overturns expectations. Worldly gain cannot compensate for a forfeited soul; discipleship measures success by communion with Christ and readiness for eternal life.

Key Points

- Self-denial places God's will above self-interest.
- The cross joins suffering to Christ's redemptive obedience.
- Scripture and sacramental worship renew Christian life.
- Faithful disciples serve, persevere and live for eternity.

OUR SAVIOUR'S CHURCH, TBS - CHURCH OF NIGERIA (ANGLICAN COMMUNION)
Sunday, 30 August 2026 | Our Saviour's Anglican Church, TBS, Lagos, Nigeria'

PREPARE TO DO THE WORD
Preacher: The Most Reverend Dr Henry Chukwudum Ndukuba, Archbishop, Metropolitan and Primate of All Nigeria

James 1:22 summons the Church beyond hearing into obedient discipleship. Scripture is not given merely to inform the mind, but to conform the whole life to Christ. The believer who receives the Word in faith must embody it in speech, decisions, relationships, integrity and service. True obedience reveals living faith; practical love, patient kindness and forgiveness show that the Gospel has taken root. Christians should therefore read prayerfully, discern what God requires, repent where necessary and act without delay. In Holy Communion, the faithful remember Christ's atoning sacrifice and the covenant of grace, examine themselves, give thanks and renew their resolve to walk worthy of their calling.

Key Points

- Hearing becomes fruitful only through faithful obedience and a consistent witness.
- God's Word must transform character and daily conduct.
- Love is proved through kindness, generosity, service and forgiveness.
- Prayer, Scripture and mature Christian accountability sustain growth.
- Holy Communion calls believers to remembrance, self-examination and renewed commitment.

TAKE UP YOUR CROSS AND FOLLOW CHRIST

Preacher: The Most Reverend Olumuyiwa Odejayi

Matthew 16:21-28 reveals that discipleship follows the crucified and risen Lord. Jesus calls believers to deny self, take up the cross and follow Him - not occasionally, but daily. Self-denial is not self-contempt; it is the surrender of selfish desire so that God's will governs thought, choice and conduct. The cross represents costly fidelity when obedience brings sacrifice, misunderstanding or hardship. Peter's protest warns against judging God's purpose by human expectations: disciples must ask not merely, 'What do I want?' but, 'What does God require?' Grace forms a life of prayer, Scripture, worship, holiness and humble service.

Key Points

- Christ, not comfort or worldly success, is the centre of discipleship.
- Faith must mature into obedience, sacrifice and perseverance.
- God's plan remains trustworthy even when it is difficult to understand.
- Disciples serve others through compassion, encouragement, evangelism and practical help.
- Daily surrender renews the mind, shapes Christlike character and reveals life's eternal meaning.

TESTIMONIES

Bread from Heaven
In a barren wilderness, Israel possessed no farms, markets, or visible means of feeding a nation. Yet God covered the ground each morning with manna, giving every household bread from heaven. Their step of faith and obedience was to gather only the portion He prescribed, resist anxious hoarding, and honour the Sabbath. For forty years, daily provision testified that their survival depended not on favourable surroundings but on God's unfailing word. This account glorifies the Father whose mercies arrive each morning. When your resources appear insufficient, trust God as your Provider; receive His provision gratefully, follow His instructions faithfully, and discover that His sustaining grace is always enough.

Bible Verses: Exodus 16:4–5, 14–15

Sight at the Pool of Siloam
Blind from birth, a man lived beneath lifelong darkness until Jesus stopped, made clay, anointed his eyes, and sent him to Siloam. His clear step of faith and obedience was to go and wash exactly as Christ commanded, although he had seen no evidence of change. He returned seeing, and opposition could not erase his testimony: once he was blind, but now he saw. This miracle glorifies God, who overturns entrenched conditions and gives undeniable witness to grace. If darkness clouds your way, trust the Lord wholeheartedly; obey His word, receive His light, and begin a transformed life that boldly displays His mercy.

Bible Verses: John 9:6–7, 25
